Dear Sir Stelios and Tracy,

I hope that you are well. Thank you again for all your brilliant support. On behalf of the School, I would like to thank you for Stelios Philanthropic Foundation's generous pledge of £255,000 in continued support of the LSE Stelios Scholarship. I can confirm safe receipt of this payment.

Now more than ever, student support is imperative for enabling the brightest minds to study, no matter their background or personal circumstances. We are deeply grateful for your generous commitment to improving access to further education through this donation. The financial security that a scholarship provides is invaluable, as it ensures they can remain focused on their studies and make the most of their opportunity. Perhaps most importantly, though, being selected for a scholarship instils in recipients the knowledge that somebody has put their belief and faith in them, the motivational effect of which is extraordinary. Thank you for helping us to work towards our institutional goal of bringing the most talented with the greatest potential to LSE.

We are also truly grateful to you both and the Stelios Philanthropic Foundation for hosting such a fantastic event in Monaco recently to celebrate your remarkable milestone of supporting this scholarship for the past 20 years. All of the scholars and LSE staff had a wonderful time, thank you for your excellent hospitality.

We look forward to soon sharing welcome letters from our new cohort of LSE Stelios Scholars for the academic year of 2024/25.

Thank you once again for your valued partnership and commitment to our students. You and our loyal supporters help to ensure LSE can continue to make the world a better place through the knowledge it creates and the brilliant minds it educates.

Yours sincerely,

Helen Jones
Executive Director of Development
